is of those 1,800 is being likened rnalists but also ans — to devil om Adolf Hitler n. The epithets in supposedly rs have been ne. he examples of 's recent and ssors. In 1953, hower, fed up ound in Korea, ectly ordered B-

29 bombing raids of the North. And he quietly let it be known, through the usual diplomatic channels, that the next step might well be atomic bombing. Yet no one discerns in the genial lineaments of the beloved Ike the glowering visage of the Butcher of Berlin.

Only V recently, Harry S. Truman was laid to rest amid virtually universal paeans of praise. The combative little man from Independence, Mo., many are beginning to say, may well been one of our great presidents. Yet each of the two atom bombs dropped on the Japanese at Truman's command killed many times the number of civilians lost in the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in liberal eyes, has achieved virtual beatification. Yet Roosevelt — and, of course, the beloved Winston Churchill — ordered the massive bombing of German cities during World War II, to say nothing of the fire-bombing of Tokyo. The British began the war, in fact, with an air force specifically designed to inflict civilian casualties. The heavyweight planes of Bomber Command were good for little else. (Interestingly enough, the Nazis fought the Battle of Britain without heavy bombers.) And though the tonnages dropped by the allies on German cities were lower than the total in Vietnam, the casualties inflicted were astronomically higher. As a former Air Force officer recently remarked to me, "In World War II, the name of the game was civilians. It was call attacking morale."

Listening to some of the comments about the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong, you are forced to conclude that, in the eyes of many, North Vietnam enjoys some sort of special, protected status — that other countries may be bombed, and civilians die in other cities, but not in the cities of North Vietnam. This is puzzling. Whatever else history records about this war, it will not record that South Vietnam invaded North Vietnam. And North Vietnam has not been especially scrupulous about civilian casualties.

The city of Quang Tri had a population of about 15,000 before the recent invasion. Last fall, the North Vietnamese shelled it with some 3,000 rounds per day, leveling homes, hospitals and N shops. Today the place is a no-man's-land. Before the invasion, An Loc had a population of 20,000. The North Vietnamese shelled it and rocketed it. Today hardly anyone lives there. Civilian casualties were very high; at An Loc they were estimated at 7,000. And so a peculiar solicitude for North Vietnam would seem at the very least to be misplaced.

But having said all this, and having said it with little fear of contradiction, one realizes that the extraordinary reaction needs to be explained. No ones care what Olof Palme of Sweden says but other more reputable figures have chimed in, and this is S subject to which I would like to return.

EDITORS' NOTE

We feel we have done the very best we could to portray with some kind of accuracy the mood and the people here at L.R. Now that the work is over we realize that it is an impossibility to represent not only the numerous aspects of life at L.R., but also the chaos in society of national and worldly affairs that affect each and everyone of us.

This year and this job have been demanding, at times frustrating, but finally, rewarding. And part of the reward has been for us an opportunity to work with a wonderful staff. A very special thanks to all of you for the encouragement, the ideas, the enthusiasm, and the sympathy we have shared.

To the readers — you have all helped to shape this year and are just as responsible as we are for this publication. We hope that in years to come the 1973 Hacawa will bring back only pleasant memories, and that the future will show that we have all done a good job.
